The First Kiss

No one is certain when the custom of kissing began, but many anthropologists believe that mothers long ago would chew food for their babies, passing it from mouth to mouth. Another theory holds that kissing developed from sniffing, a common practice among many animals and peoples in primitive cultures, some of whom still rub noses as a greeting. Romans kissed each other hello, and some believe they kissed their wives to see if they had been drinking wine. By the sixth century, kissing was an accepted expression of affection. The French introduced kissing as a part of courtship; dances were concluded with kisses.

Even the manliest of men won't be able to resist this cute take on Egg-in-a-Hole.

- 4 tsp. mayonnaise
- 2 slice white sandwich bread
- 1 tbsp. butter
- 2 large eggs
- salt
- Pepper
- Finely chopped capers
- Finely chopped fresh herbs

Spread mayonnaise on both sides of 2 slices white sandwich bread. With medium heart-shaped cookie cutter, cut centers from bread. In 12-inch nonstick skillet, melt butter on medium. Add bread (and centers) to skillet. Cook 5 minutes or until golden brown. Turn bread over. To each heart-shaped hole, add 1 large egg; sprinkle eggs with pinch of salt and pepper. Reduce heat to medium-low. Cook 5 to 7 minutes, or until whites are set. Sprinkle with finely chopped capers and herbs (such as parsley, chives or basil) if desired.

THE Millennial REPORT

Keep The Reclining Chairs

Have you begun to notice that movie theaters are upgrading for the better? Many have elected to adopt the reclining chairs, a full bar you can order from, and a waitperson brings you what you ordered to your seat, so you don't have to miss a beat.

They're doing this for a reason. The movie theater industry is slowly dying thanks to millennials electing to stay at home and stream what they want to watch the moment it hits their favorite service.
